Tone of Voice

Content guidelines

- OBSERVED: Lead with action and results in headlines—use concrete verbs like 'blijft', 'organiseert', 'zoekt', 'gewonnen' rather than abstract concepts
- OBSERVED: Structure news updates with date, headline, and concise summary format—keep match reports to 2-3 sentences maximum
- OBSERVED: Use inclusive language that addresses the entire club community—youth, seniors, volunteers, and supporters
- RECOMMENDED: Maintain a balance between celebrating achievements and acknowledging challenges—reflect the realistic ups and downs of amateur sport
- RECOMMENDED: Prioritize clarity and scannability—use short paragraphs (2-3 sentences) and clear section headers for easy navigation
- RECOMMENDED: Incorporate member and volunteer recognition into regular content—highlight contributions beyond match results

Writing guidelines

- OBSERVED: Use active voice with clear subjects—'DTS Ede blijft haar zegereeks voortzetten' rather than passive constructions

- OBSERVED: Keep sentences concise and factual—average 15-20 words, focusing on who, what, when, and outcome
- OBSERVED: Write in third person for match reports and news—'DTS Ede organiseert dit toernooi' rather than 'Wij organiseren'
- OBSERVED: Use Dutch football terminology naturally—'wedstrijd', 'toernooi', 'zegereeks', 'achterstand'—without over-explaining
- RECOMMENDED: Front-load key information—put the most important fact (result, date, action) in the first sentence
- RECOMMENDED: Use present tense for immediacy in headlines, past tense for match reports—'DTS Ede zoekt talent' vs 'DTS Ede heeft gewonnen'
- RECOMMENDED: Avoid corporate buzzwords or marketing speak—stay grounded in authentic football club language

Do say

- DTS Ede blijft haar zegereeks voortzetten
- WELKOM BIJ DTS EDE
- DTS Ede organiseert dit toernooi voor de 23e keer
- Wedstrijd met twee gezichten

Don't say

- We zijn trots om aan te kondigen dat onze innovatieve voetbalervaring...
- Ons state-of-the-art faciliteitencomplex biedt...
- Sluit je vandaag nog aan bij de DTS Ede familie en transformeer je voetbalreis!

Imagery

Photography guidelines

- OBSERVED: Prioritize authentic team moments—celebrations, huddles, genuine interactions—over staged portraits
- OBSERVED: Feature the club's blue and white colors prominently through jerseys and branding in every image
- OBSERVED: Use outdoor, natural lighting that reflects the reality of amateur football—no studio or overly polished aesthetics
- RECOMMENDED: Capture diversity across age groups—from youth (O8-O19) to seniors (35+) and women's teams—to reflect the club's inclusive structure
- RECOMMENDED: Include environmental storytelling—show the 'Rookvrij sportpark', facilities, and local Ede context to build place-based identity
- RECOMMENDED: Balance action shots (matches, training) with community moments (volunteers, supporters, club events) at a 60/40 ratio
- RECOMMENDED: Avoid overly dramatic or professional sports photography aesthetics—maintain the accessible, grassroots feel

Illustration guidelines

- RECOMMENDED: Use simple, bold iconography for wayfinding and section identification—prioritize clarity over decorative style
- RECOMMENDED: If illustrations are needed for youth content or educational materials, use a friendly, approachable style that appeals to families

- RECOMMENDED: Incorporate the club's blue color palette into any graphic elements—maintain brand consistency across illustration and photography
- RECOMMENDED: Avoid overly cartoonish or childish styles—the club serves all ages from 8 to 35+, so maintain broad appeal

Imagery don'ts

- Don't use stock photography of generic football scenes—all imagery must feel authentic to DTS Ede and the local Ede community
- Don't over-edit or apply heavy filters—maintain the natural, unpolished aesthetic of grassroots amateur sport
- Don't focus exclusively on winning or elite performance—show the full spectrum of club life including training, social moments, and recreational teams
- Don't exclude any demographic—avoid imagery that only shows one age group, gender, or skill level
- Don't use imagery that feels corporate or commercial—no handshake photos, suited executives, or business-style portraits
